The Liberal Jewish Synagogue RABBI

The largest Liberal congregation in the UK is seeking to appoint a Rabbi to join the team working with our Senior Rabbi, Alexandra Wright and part-time Rabbi, Rachel Benjamin. This is an exciting time to join the LJS, which has nearly 2000 members and a full and stimulating programme of services, events and learning opportunities. We welcome candidates who have a passion for the principles of Liberal Judaism and want to play a full role in all day-to-day rabbinic responsibilities. The appointed Rabbi will be expected to engage comfortably with younger members in particular, whilst also providing intellectual stimulation and pastoral support for members of all ages.

We are looking for someone who is a 'team player', who will work with, and complement the skills and experience of our Rabbi and other colleagues in our Senior Professional Team. Preferred candidates will be able to demonstrate particular interest in the nurturing and development of our Young Adults Group, social action initiatives, interfaith work, membership in-reach and out-reach, and education, with a special focus on Rimon, our Religion School.

The post is envisaged as a full-time job, but we are also open to recruiting two Rabbis on a part-time basis in order to secure the blend of rabbinic skills and experience we need. If you have commitments that prevent your working for us full-time, but are keen to join our team and help us to shape our future, we want to hear from you.

For a job description and further information about this rewarding opportunity, you can find the recruitment pack on our website www.ljs.org or contact recruitment@ljs.org. You are also welcome to discuss the role informally with Rabbi Alexandra Wright (initial contact: a.wright@ljs.org). Communication will be treated as confidential.

Closing date for applications: Monday 5th March, 2018
